NO GENERAL ELECTION THIS YEAR.

Light Shed Upon Many Dark Points in Tory Diplomacy and Statecraft by a Work From Andrew Lang's Pen.

LORD SALISBURY ANNOTED BY THE BOOK.

BY CARLETON TO THE DISPATCH. The week has been one of the pleasantest spent by the Liberals since the Tories went into office over four years ago.

A fortnight ago it looked as though the election would turn as much on the labor question as upon home rule, and the Tories for a time did their best to strengthen that impression.

Lord Salisbury has been making speeches at a rate and in a manner which proves him to be as strong physically and intellectually as he was at the commencement of the struggle.

Ecce in his triumph the most significant triumph for home rule won since that question was put in the forefront of the political arena.

Result Unsatisfactory. In one respect a victory so emphatic as this is unsatisfactory because the Tory Government will be leaders there inclined to hold fast to office for the full legal term.

Mr. Balfour has hardly gone on a tour through some of the districts in Ireland threatened with dire distress by the failure of the potato crop.

But Mr. Balfour's flying trip will not be marked by much investigation. The men who are to be sent to the relief of the famine-stricken districts are not likely to be sent to the relief of the famine-stricken districts.

Projected Cures for Distress. The same spur has moved Balfour to give the world an idea of his light railway panacea for Irish distress.

LITTLE JACK HORNER HAS PULLED OUT A PLUM. The result of the elections at Eccles has filled Parrell and the Home Rulers with joy.

Mr. Stafford Northcote. That amiable politician died suddenly in Downing street in 1886, and his death was undeniably hastened by worries caused by the shameful manner in which he was hustled out of the Government.

Ecce in his triumph the most significant triumph for home rule won since that question was put in the forefront of the political arena.

THE W.P.S.C.E. COMING.

Pittsburg Gets the State Convention of the Big Society.

ITS ORIGIN AND ITS PRINCIPLES.

How It Has Grown in Ten Years to a Body of a Million Members.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE AS A RIVAL.

The assembling of the State Convention of the Societies of Christian Endeavor in this city November 5-7 brings into local prominence an organization in the churches which is fast taking chief rank among the undenominational religious bodies of the day.

What is it, anyway? As a special train bearing delegates to the St. Louis Convention passed through Cleveland, one railroad man said to another: "What does this here Y. P. S. C. E. mean, anyhow?"

"Oh," said the other man, "it means, You Poor Sinners Come Early."

He couldn't have hit the nail more squarely on the head if he had tried. The precise object of the organization is to cause the young, who make "poor sinners" to their religious education and training are neglected, to "come early" into working relations with the church and each other; in other words, to secure the cultivation of a voluntary and practical Christianity among young people.

Since all the Christian world is interested in the Christian Endeavor movement, which has been pronounced "the greatest religious movement since the days of Luther, Knox, Calvin and Wesley," it is not surprising that facts about it will be in place.

A LEGAL MIND ISN'T ENOUGH.

Great Victories Always Bear the Smell of Midnight Oil.

THIS IS AN AGE OF LARGE FEES.

No man ought to study law who has not a genuine love for the profession. It is true, generally, that men are successful only in those callings or pursuits upon which they enter and in which they continue from choice; but it is especially true, I think, in the case of the law.

When I say fair talents I mean the kind of talents that adapt themselves to the study and practice of law. We often say such a man has a legal mind. That is to say, he has a mind which naturally absorbs legal principles, and sees and recognizes the justice of nice distinctions.
